Conflict Resolution Enrichment Workshops

C.R.E.W. is an EDUCATIONAL OUTREACH PROGRAM that teaches PEER MEDIATION SKILLS through THEATRE EDUCATION.

Middle/Upper School C.R.E.W. Peer Mediation Program focuses on recognition of volatile situations, developing positive behavior patterns during those moments and improving communication skills to foster more positive interactions in others. Students learn accepted language for effective non-violent resolution techniques, and have the opportunity to build their own style. They model these skills for their peers and accept the responsibility to use their knowledge at all times. This kind of peer mentoring is fundamental to a deeper level of success and will help to maintain the benefits of the C.R.E.W. workshop after the instructors have gone.

C.R.E.W. instructors guide students through role-playing mediation sessions relevant to the conflicts of middle/upper school age youth. Students will gain knowledge of causes and types of conflicts, develop effective active listening skills for diffusing anger and learn the ABC's of solving peer conflicts.

Building conflict resolution skills in students can help to create a stronger sense of community, alleviate violence, demonstrate that a problem has many positive solutions, and make a difference in the lives of young people.

Each two-hour C.R.E.W. peer mediation session can accommodate up to 18 students, Peer Mediation Guides included (Customized extended training sessions available) call for fees.
